

CHAD C. HENRIKSEN, D.C.

E-mail: chad@advantagewellness.com

EDUCATION

- 1989-1991 Undergraduate Study, University of Minnesota-Duluth
- 1995 Bachelor of Science, Northwestern College of Chiropractic
- 1995 Doctorate of Chiropractic, Northwestern College of Chiropractic
- 1998 Certified Powerlift Trainer, International Academy of Occupational Health Consultants, Powerlift Training, Inc.
- 2003 Diplomate in the American Chiropractic Board on Occupational Health (DACBOH), Northwestern Health Sciences University, Northwestern College of Chiropractic.

POSITIONS HELD

- 1995- 2001 Chiropractor. Neubauer Chiropractic Health Clinic: Healthcare that focuses on restoring spinal biomechanics, conservatively treating NMS conditions, and educating patients on injury prevention and health maintenance.
- 1996- 2001 Chiropractor-Occupational Health Consultant. Genesis Health and Wellness, Inc.: Over 12,000 on-site hours performing patient care, workstation evaluation, facility evaluation, ergonomic consultation, seminars, loss source analysis, and occupational health consultation.
- 1997 -Present International Academy of Chiropractic Occupational Consultants Board of Directors- Vice President (current position): Non-profit organization whose mission is to foster relationships between chiropractic and industry.
- 2001- Present Minnesota Chiropractic Association – Occupational Health Committee – Chairperson.
- 2001- Present American Chiropractic Association’s Council of Occupational Health, Executive Officer of the Board.
- 2002- Present Minnesota Department of Labor and Industry’s Medical Service Review Board.
- 2002- Present Carver County Health Partnership - 19-65 Action Team, Co-Convener.
- 2002- Present President, Owner. Advantage Wellness PA: On-site healthcare, ergonomic consulting, presenter and occupational health consultant.

PUBLISHED ARTICLES

- “DC’s Offer Health, Wellness, and Prevention On-Site Hearing Device Manufacturing Co.” IACOHC Chiropractic Occupational Health Newsletter, Winter/Spring 1997
- “Real Results from One On-Site Health and Wellness Pilot Program” Chiropractic Economics, June/July 1999, pp. 54-58.
- “Getting Workers Back on the Job: Chiropractors and Occupational Health” Journal Of the American Chiropractic Association, May 2000 Volume 37 No. 5 pp. 8-14.

“Case Studies: On-Site Chiropractic Care” Today’s Chiropractic, November/ December 2001, pp 61.

“One-on-One with Dr Chad Henriksen: Inside the World of the Chiropractic Occupational Health Consultant” Today’s Chiropractic, November/ December 2001, pp 56-60.

PRESENTATIONS

In addition to over 50 presentations given on-site at a variety of companies:

“Keys to a Successful Health and Wellness Program” Presented: Minnesota Safety Councils Annual Conference, May 2001

“Keys to a Successful Health and Wellness Program” Presented: 89th National Safety Council’s Annual Congress, September 2001

“Prevention, Early Detection, and Treatment of Low Back Injuries” Presented: American Occupational Health Conference Chicago IL, April 2002

“Working with Industry” Presented: Iowa Chiropractic Society Spring Convention April 2002

“Oh My Aching Back” Presented: Minnesota Safety Council’s Annual Conference May 2002

“Want to Save Time and Money?” Presented: Minnesota Safety Council’s Annual Conference May 2002

“Health Care: A Practical Look to the Future” Presented: Minnesota Safety Council Annual Conference, May 2003

“Keys to a Successful Health and Wellness Program” Presented: Unity Health Insurance of Wisconsin, Employer Symposium June 2004

FIELDS OF INTEREST & SPECIALTIES

Providing quality healthcare and educating the public on prevention of disease and injury. Special interest in the area of occupational health. Providing onsite treatment, ergonomic consultation, workshops, seminars, loss source analysis, return to work assistance, and healthcare consultation to human resource personnel.

PROFESSIONAL ORGANIZATIONS

International Academy of Chiropractic Occupational Health Consultants (IACOHC)
American Chiropractic Association (ACA)
American Chiropractic Association’s Council on Occupational Health (ACACOH)
Minnesota Chiropractic Association (MCA)
Minnesota Chiropractic Association’s Industrial Relation Committee

LICENSES AND CERTIFICATES

Licensed Chiropractor State of Minnesota: License Number 3337
Diplomate in the American Chiropractic Board on Occupational Health (DACBOH)

REFERENCES

Bonnie Lano, HR Manager – Starkey Labs – Eden Prairie
6700 Washington Ave. South, Eden Prairie, MN 55344 (952) 828-9183

Karl Pinske, President - Plato Woodwork
200 3rd Street Southwest, Plato, MN 55370 (320) 238-2193

Joseph J. Sweere, DC, DABCO, DACBOH, FICC
Northwestern Health Sciences University, Chair of Department of Occupational Health
2501 West 84th Street, Bloomington, MN 55431 (952) 888-4777 ext. 269